Jose Emeterio Gutiérrez

Senior Advisor & Consultant

Jose Emeterio Gutiérrez began his career in the nuclear industry at Empresarios Agrupados, in Spain, working for the construction of the Trillo NPP. Two years later he moved to ENUSA Industrias Avanzadas S.A. where he held a number of fuel leadership positions over a period of 22 years. In his nuclear fuel director role at ENUSA, Mr. Gutiérrez was responsible for leading the Juzbado Manufacturing Plant and had full responsibility before the Spanish Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Gutiérrez joined Westinghouse Electric Company in 2008, serving as Nuclear Services technical director and regional vice president of Spain, leading all Westinghouse Services operations in Spain between 2008 and 2010. In 2010, Gutiérrez was named managing director and vice president for Southern Europe in Westinghouse’s Europe, Middle East and Africa (EMEA) region. In April 2012, he was named senior vice president of Westinghouse’s global Nuclear Fuel and Components Manufacturing (NF&CM) organization located at Cranberry, PA, USA. He served in this role until his appointment as interim president and CEO in June 2016. He was the permanent president and CEO of Westinghouse between July 2017 and July 2019 when he decided to return to Spain. Since then, Gutiérrez works as Senior Advisor & Consultant for several Spanish and foreign companies in the energy sector.

Gutiérrez received a civil engineering degree from the Polytechnic University of Madrid. He served as chairman of the Spanish Nuclear Society between 2009 and 2011, and has been a member of several European organizations, including Foratom and the European Nuclear Society.
